What does carbon neutral certification mean?

For more than 150 years, Furphy Foundry has evolved into a leader in Australian design and manufacturing of Street and Park Furniture.

We've taken ambitious steps towards a more sustainable future by reducing our impact on the planet and embedding sustainability into how we do business.

Some of the initiatives we've taken include manufacturing all our products from a clean energy source, and using recycled materials, which have a low impact on the environment or are sustainably sourced.

With this in mind, we wanted to develop a Street and Park Furniture Range which wasn't only aesthetically beautiful, but also completely carbon neutral.

After a lengthy and complex process, we're thrilled to announce our Nuvo Street and Park Furniture Range is the first in Australia to receive carbon neutrality certification by Climate Active.

To achieve this, it involved calculating and reducing our greenhouse gas emissions.

In our case this includes electricity and waste – while also improving freight and fuel efficiencies.

We will offset any remaining emissions through supporting the Piccaninny Plains Carbon Abatement Program, which aims to protect the conservation values of the region in Far North Queensland, Australia.
